

Garden Docent Training

Training on four successive Fridays,
February 24 - March 16, 2012

Rancho Los Cerritos is seeking garden enthusiasts to share the “Roots of Long Beach” with museum visitors. Our training course focuses on the history of the gardens and grounds from the 1840s through the 1930s. Discover the garden “rooms” and how families used them, and learn stories about the site’s historic plants, then share these tales with the public.

Take this volunteer opportunity to share the gardens of Long Beach’s only National, State & Local Historic Landmark with others. SIGN-UP today! To enroll, contact the Volunteer Coordinator at (562) 570-1755.
